

PELHAM ORAL HISTORY PROJECT

Between 1979 and 1981, Barbara Benda Jenkins conducted 21 oral history sound recordings with long-time Pelham residents. The recordings were transcribed by a number of volunteers, and then, in 2003, were electronically transcribed by Happi Cramer.

In a few instances, the transcripts have been edited for on-line presentation. Editorial notations are signified with brackets “[]”. The complete, unedited texts—as well as the sound recordings themselves—are available at the Pelham Free Public Library History Room.
